Further Education in Edinburgh

Print Create PDF Email

Edinburgh city region offers the highest standards to the undergraduate fresh from school and the post-graduate perfecting a doctoral thesis. This level of quality is kept consistent thanks to the presence of some of Scotland's world-leading universities and five-star research institutions such as Heriot-Watt and the University of Edinburgh.

Scottish education is highly-respected throughout the world and Edinburgh's reputation as a world influencer in education is justly deserved.

Going to the open days of relevant institutions is a good way to see the university first-hand, experience a glimpse of life as a student, meet the course tutors and ask questions. Open days are free to attend. For details of open days for colleges and universities throughout the UK visit the Open Days website. More information on Further and Higher education in Edinburgh city region is available in the STUDY section of this website.
