

AccessScotland International Touchdown Service

Leading global corporations, recognising all this country has to offer, have chosen to invest in Scotland. With a world-class education system, several thriving economic sectors and a long-standing culture of innovation, Scotland is the ideal destination for business investment and the number one location for research and development.

We are here to help your business to invest in Scotland and take advantage of all that this fantastic country has to offer. If your business is looking for opportunities and collaboration in an environment with a strong focus on research and development, then accept our assistance and invest in Scotland.

Scotland has been voted European Region of the Future according to the Financial Times fDi (Foreign Direct Investment) magazine, in two of the last four years. We agree with them and believe that Scotland is the best place in the world to invest. A unique blend of innovative research, a skilled workforce and a commitment to economic growth make Scotland an excellent business investment option.

We provide an early stage inward incubation support package AccessScotland which provides your business with the support to develop your business & project plan. So if you are at an early stage of international investment or you have a new project that needs to be developed we can provide the support to make it a success.

AccessScotland programme provides essential support

- Free desk for up to 12 months with Business Service Package*
- 25% discount of office cost for qualifying businesses
- Business advisor dedicated to your project with regular reviews.
- Professional advisory support –Finance; R&D; Legal; Recruitment
- Access to develop business networks

Currently we are utilising two centres in key locations in Scotland namely

- Avanta Service Offices Hanover Street, Edinburgh
- Hillington Park Innovation Centre Hillington Glasgow

Both centres have good international airport access and provide distinct locations to develop your investment plans.

AccessScotland is a unique programme as it seeks to bring all the elements together that allows a business to develop its plans with minimum risk and maximum support from key advisors that have a track record of success in developing inward investor projects.

Contact us today to discuss how the AccessScotland programme can make your plan a success.
